

BS
(BEAUTY SALON)RESERVATION
WEBSITE BRIEF

Haneen Alsharabaty

Brief

This is the last and my master piece Project for coding academy by Orange, I decided to develop a website for a beauty salon that gives a chance to his clients to make appointments and to make the services that she wants without calling the salon to know available dates and times simply she can open her account on the website and know the available times and take the appointment .and the admin well let her know if the appointment is accepted or rejected.

This website will save the time of waiting and effort of calling to booking and we can make the appointments any time or anywhere and you can know the range of prices and the salon services that provides. The clients will make a down payment to check credibility and to confirm the appointment.

It is website that has two side (admin side and user side) and I use database to store and show the data and after that project I can called myself I'm full stack developer.

This project covering most of technologies that have been learned in this training during the 7 months ago I did my best to make it in the highest level.

Thanks to coding academy by Orange for giving me this chance to be with them in this training and thanks for the instructors for their time and their efforts.